Following is a copy of the notice included with the NAL[®] Questions sent to NAL[®] League Commissioners.

We are pleased to provide you with this season's questions ("The Questions") from the NAL[®] QUESTION BANK (NAL[®]QB[®]). The NAL[®] Question Bank[®] (NAL[®] QB[®]) covers twenty-two subjects grouped under the basic areas of math, English/language arts, science and social studies. The NAL[®] Question Bank[®] (NAL[®] QB[®]) covers twenty-two subjects grouped under the basic areas of math, English/language arts, science and social studies. These questions are generated from NAL[®] participants, from materials used in schools, and from criterion-referenced tests that are used by school districts and states. The National Office also asks League Commissioners to provide published State Achievement Tests and study materials, and any other assessment tests used by their schools. The NAL[®] office uses these materials as guidelines for writing additional questions for the Question Bank[®]. Questions have been correlated to National Standards and are currently being updated to match Common Core States Standards as set forth by the National Governors Association representing 50 governors, 3 territories, and 2 commonwealths. Anyone interested in writing questions can contact the National Office for Question Writing Guidelines.

Despite our best efforts, you may still find some errors. "The Questions" are sent to NAL[®] League Commissioners with the request that each of you review them for clarity, accuracy, and difficulty level. If you notice any errors, please make corrections before you use them, and notify the National Office so corrections can be made in the database. Thank you for your input on "The Questions" and for your contributions to the NALQB[®]. If you have any comments regarding the NAL[®], the NALQB[®], or "The Questions," please contact the National Office.
